Tenants to set new housing standards

A focus group meeting is being held by Gloucester City Homes to give their tenants chance to take part in the National Tenant Conversation.

The meeting is being held at 1pm on Wednesday 18th February at Gloucester City Homes' office at Southgate House, Southgate Street, Gloucester.

The National Tenant Conversation is a major consultation exercise being held by the newly formed social housing regulator, the Tenant Services Authority (TSA).

The purpose of the consultation exercise is to give tenants the chance to have their say about a new set of housing standards being drawn up by the TSA, to which all social housing landlords will work.

Tenants who would like to attend the meeting should call Gloucester City Homes Customer Services Line to confirm attendance on 0800 408 2000.
