

FULL OF LIFE 2009

CAKE COMPETITION
CHARTER COURT, VICTORIA STREET

The Full Of Life event celebrates Older People's Day (1st October). Full of Life is a celebration of the opportunities, achievements, and aspirations of older people and their contribution to our society and economy.

To coincide with the event the sheltered housing schemes once again opened up their doors to the community for the whole fortnight between Monday 28th September 2009 and Friday 9th October 2009.

On Friday 2nd October at Charter Court, Victoria Street residents and visitors to the scheme used all their culinary skills to create bakery masterpieces for the annual cake competition.

Gloucester City Homes Resident Involvement Officers Terry Elcock and Lyn Scudamore were on hand to score all of the 12 entries with Charter Court Scheme Manager Russell Bridge being the third judge.

Early consensus was that the entries this year exceeded last years so it was a tough time for the RI Officers and Scheme Manager, but one that they managed with great enthusiasm.

With the entries narrowed down to three, the judges gathered to count the points on their scorecards and announced that Mrs White's delectable iced lemon sponge cake with 3x gold stars on the top was the worthy winner.

A surprised Mrs White said "I didn't think I would win but this year I had more time to prepare, so could make a more elaborate cake."

A full and contented Russell Bridge said "The event was a great success and thoroughly enjoyed by all."

Resident Involvement Officers Terry Elcock and Lyn Scudamore had the difficult but tasty task of scoring the entries.

All the budding chef's can do is wait patiently for the judging to finish.
